Education

2017–2021 Doctor of Philosophy (DPhil), University of Oxford, Computer Science.

Supervised by Associate Prof. Nicholas D. Lane.

Thesis: Machine Learning on Human Behavioural Data.

President of Oxford Women in Computer Science Society.

2013–2017 Master of Physics (MPhys), University of Oxford, Physics.

Focus: Theoretical Physics and Atmospheric Physics.

Graduated with First Class Honours.

Research Interests

Ubiquitous Sensing · ML for health · Multi-modal learning · Graph Neural Networks

My current research focuses on developing machine learning methods which model varieties of behavioural data collected through everyday sensing devices. I am particularly interested in developing solutions to the sparse data problem in human activity recognition, through leveraging multiple modalities and domain knowledge.

Work Experience

- Aug 2020 Oxford Women in Computer Science Society, President.
– Present I oversee the workings of the society – I work with the committee to organize outreach, academic and industry events, liaise with University departments and external sponsors, and represent the society in general.
- June – Aug 2020 Frontier Development Lab, Machine Learning Researcher.
Focus: Enabling global medium-range precipitation forecasts from satellite imagery.
I am part of the Digital Twin Earth team.
We are developing a novel multi-modal system which incorporate physical understanding into a deep learning approach for skillful forecasts across the globe.
- June – Sep 2019 Microsoft Research, Cambridge, Research Intern.
Focus: Understanding the behaviours of mental health patients on an online Cognitive Behavioural Therapy platform.
I was part of Project Talia in the Healthcare Intelligence group.
We developed a deep learning framework to analyze and predict health outcomes (as measured by depression scores) by modelling patients' browsing trajectories and relevant site content.
- June – Sep 2017 Nokia Bell Labs, Cambridge, Research Intern.
Focus: Analyzing multi-modal deep learning models for activity and context recognition.
We compared the performance of different multi-modal setups. We also trained machine learning models to analyze health-related data collected by smart appliances in the Withings range.

- May – July 2017 Centre for Agent-Based Dynamic Networks, University of Oxford, Research Assistant.
Focus: Modelling the labour economy using methods from Statistical Physics.
We formulated and solved an agent-based Markov model on multiplex networks to describe the movement of labour across the economy. We analyzed the approach on UK labour survey data.
- May – July 2020 Ufonia, Part-time Researcher.
Focus: Automating post-surgery phone conversations with NHS patients.
I helped develop a knowledge-graph-based approach to structure incoming conversation data.

Volunteer Activities

- 2019-Present Membership Co-Chair, N2Women Board
- 2017-Present Committee, Oxford Women in Computer Science Society
- 2020 Teaching Assistant, Foundamentals of Sensing
- 2014-2017 Undergraduate Mentor, Oxford Women in Physics Society
- 2014-2015 Volunteer Tutor, Jacari

Awards

- 2017-2022 EPSRC DPhil (PhD) Scholarship
- 2018, 2020 ACM Student Travel Award
- 2016 Examiners' Commendation for Best Practical Work in Physics
- 2013-2017 College Scholarship for Outstanding Performance in Physics Exams
